Empowering Underrepresented Learners to Access and Succeed in Higher Education

“The Psychology Taster Week was great and I really enjoyed my time here. It was educational and fun at the same time.”

“In addition to learning more about the many types of engineering, I developed life skills such as teamwork, problem-solving, listening and leadership.”

University Taster Weeks

What are they?

Our week long University Taster Weeks give you an insight into a particular subject area that you can study at university:

- You will take part in workshops delivered by university academic staff as well as external providers
- You will meet and work with current City students and find out about their experience studying at university
- The week takes place on our campus near Angel, so you will need to make your own way there every day
- Refreshments and lunch are provided free of charge each day
